

REFERENCES MANUAL

- How To -

This manual, developed by World Institute for Advanced Research and Science (WIARS), provides authors with information on how to compose references in-text and in list. Norms are based on APA (American Psychological Association, 2010) 6th edition of Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, and APA style® (<http://www.apastyle.org/>) referencing guide and other minor sources.

Please note that editors are not responsible for content errors in the references list itself. Authors need to be rigorous in writing and editing. References cited in the main document text should appear obligatory in the references list at the end, and in alphabetic order. If wanting to provide additional resources (that don't appear on text, but provide more information about the subject), authors need to open a heading in the end of the references list, naming it "Additional reading".

Groups (identified through abbreviation) as authors	National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH, 2003)	NIMH (2003)	(National Institute of Mental Health [NIMH], 2003)	(NIMH, 2003)
Groups (no abbreviation) as authors	University of Pittsburgh (2005)	University of Pittsburgh (2005)	(University of Pittsburgh, 2005)	(University of Pittsburgh, 2005)

Journal articles

Instructions:

- The article title is typed in sentence case and the journal title in title case.
- Italic is used only in the journal title and volume number.
- Include the issue number in parenthesis (not in italic) if the journal is paginated by issue.
- Type the DOI in the format shown in the first example. Do not put a period at the end of the DOI.

DOI

Herbst-Damm, K. L., & Kulik, J. A. (2005). Volunteer support, marital status, and the survival times of terminally ill patients. Health Psychology, 24, 225-229. <https://doi.org/10.1037/0278-6133.24.2.225>

NO DOI

If wanting to reference and ENTIRE ISSUE OF A JOURNAL:

- Give the authors of the issue and the title of the issue.
- If the issue has no editors, move the issue title to the author position and alphabetize the reference entry by the first significant word in the title.
- These instructions are also applicable to formatting a reference to a special section.

Example with editors:

Greenfield, P., & Yan, Z. (Eds.). (2006). Children, adolescents, and the Internet [Special section]. Developmental Psychology, 42, 391-394. <https://doi.org/10.1037/0012-1649.42.3.391>

Books

Instructions for formatting a reference to an ENTIRE BOOK:

- Type the title of the book in sentence case. Capitalize the first word following a colon or end punctuation in the title.
- If you cited an electronic book, give information about the format in square brackets after the title.
- For electronic books, give the DOI or URL in place of publisher location and name.
- If having an edition number, it should be added following the title of the book in brackets (third example). A revised edition should be in the same location but typing "Rev. ed."
- The third example shows how to format the name of a corporate author that is the same as the publisher name.

Dissertations and Thesis

Instructions:

- When a work is referring to a doctoral degree, it should be used “Doctoral dissertation”; when a work is referring to a master’s degree, the term used is “Master’s thesis”.
- The following examples show how to present dissertations and thesis retrieved from different places.

Retrieved from an INSTITUTION/INSTITUTIONAL DATABASE:

- If a dissertation or thesis is retrieved from outside United States, authors should provide the name of the institution, city and country, as the following examples.

Doctoral dissertation (inside U.S.)

Montoya, S. (2010). Exploring family, neighborhood and school factors in racial achievement gap (Doctoral dissertation). Retrieved from http://www.rand.org/pubs/rgs_dissertations/RGSD259/

Master’s thesis (outside U.S.)

Xu, C. (2008). EU energy situations and supply security (Master's thesis, Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm, Sweden). Retrieved from <http://urn.kb.se/resolve?urn=urn:nbn:se:kth:diva-9131>

Retrieved from the WEB:

- Dissertations retrieved on the web are the only examples of dissertations or master’s theses with the name of the institution after the degree information in parentheses.

Master’s thesis, from the web, date provided

Fisher, M. J. (2005). Design system for a fluid domain assembly (Master's thesis, Brigham Young University). Retrieved from <http://imechanica.org/files/HyperMeshTclMySQL.pdf>

Doctoral dissertation, from the web, no date

Matlik, K. L. (n.d.). Outcomes evaluation of the technology property initiative at Collin County Community College (Doctoral dissertation, Nova Southeastern University). Retrieved from http://www.nova.edu/phe/phe_resources/online_documents.htm

Retrieved from PROQUEST DISSERTATIONS AND THESIS DATABASE:

- Notice that the title of the dissertation is italicized, followed by either Doctoral dissertation or Master’s thesis in parentheses and followed by a period.
- Use a retrieval statement with the name of the subscription database, ProQuest Dissertations and Theses, because that is the only place this dissertation can be retrieved online, after the proper name of the database. Do not capitalize the letter.
- The accession number is included in parentheses after the retrieval statement if one has been assigned. Note that there is no period included after the parentheses. The ProQuest Dissertations and Theses database uses AAT in front of the number in the abstract, but if you retrieved the document as a PDF file from the database, the number is shown with a UMI No. XXXXXXXX.

Doctoral dissertation, from the ProQuest database

Cooley, T. (2009). Design, development, and implementation of a Wireless Local Area Network (WLAN): The Hartford Job Corps Academy case study (Doctoral dissertation). Available from ProQuest Dissertations and Theses database. (UMI No. 3344745)

Long, M. F. M. (2007). School media librarians as transformational leaders (Doctoral dissertation). Available from ProQuest Dissertations and Theses database. (UMI No. 329321)

Oakley-Williams, L.-M. A. (2005). An empirical study of the effect of transformational and transactional leadership on motivation in the Jamaican environment (Jamaica Money Market Brokers) (Doctoral dissertation). Available from ProQuest Dissertations and Theses database. (UMI No. 3180661)

Master's thesis, from the ProQuest database

Horowitz, J. (2010). An examination of how American business must eliminate perceived bias towards Muslims and Arab Americans (Master's thesis). Available from ProQuest Dissertations and Theses database. (UMI No. 1484335)

Retrieved from DISSERTATION ABSTRACTS INTERNATIONAL:

- The dissertation title is not italicized if the name of the index is included. Include the volume, issue, page number, and section letter. This information is included in the DAI abstract. The volume number is italicized like the volume number in a journal citation.
- Include the UMI number in parentheses and do not follow with a period.
- Only the international dissertation includes the name of the institution, city, and country. Dissertations in the United States only provide "Doctoral dissertation".

Doctoral dissertation, abstracted from Dissertation Abstracts International (DAI)

Barbo, A. (1898). Das trauma in der aetiologie der dementia paralytica (Doctoral dissertation, Albert-Ludwigs-Universitaet, Freiburg, Germany). Dissertation Abstracts International: Section C, 36(1). (UMI No. CA44346)

Cannon, C. (2004). Does moral education increase moral development? A reexamination of the moral reasoning abilities of working adult learners. Dissertation Abstracts International: Section A, 61(12), 4851. (UMI No. 9999321)

Ganson, E. L. (1982). The discovery of illusion. Dissertation Abstracts International: Section A, 27(3), 3046. (UMI No. 2939539)

Retrieved from ERIC DATABASE:

- The name of the dissertation is italicized.
- The type of dissertation or thesis is identified; the name of the institution is listed in parentheses.
- The ERIC accession number is listed in parentheses and not followed by a period. See APA manual (6th ed.), p. 221 #62 for only one of example of an ERIC document. APA calls ERIC an electronic archive (p. 211).
- See p. 208, #41 for an example of a retrieval statement for an archival database.

Doctoral dissertation, from ERIC database

Sanford, C. A. (1997). Working from within the classroom: Improving the delivery of speech-language services to kindergarten at-risk students (Doctoral dissertation). (ED420967). Retrieved from ERIC database.

Eson-Brizo, J. (2010). Analysis of a mentoring program to change attitudes related to turnover of special needs teachers (Doctoral dissertation). (ED508645). Retrieved from ERIC database.

UNPUBLISHED DISSERTATIONS OR THESIS:

- APA (2010) does not provide a specific example of an unpublished dissertation, but it does provide a template on p. 207, section 7.05: Author, A. A. (1978). Title of doctoral dissertation or master's thesis (Unpublished doctoral dissertation or master's thesis). Name of institution, Location.
- In the example given, the dissertation is an unpublished manuscript in the university library. In 1987, the institution still had the name of Nova University so that is the name that is used.

Doctoral dissertation, unpublished

Kassover, A. (1987). Treatment of abusive males: Voluntary vs. court-mandated referrals (Unpublished doctoral dissertation). Nova University, Fort Lauderdale, FL.

Conferences and Presentations

Conference/Meeting PAPERS AND POSTER SESSIONS:

- Notice that the date field contains not only the year but also the month of the conference.
- For a paper, substitute paper title for poster title, italicized; use the word paper instead of poster.

SYMPOSIUM:

- A symposium is a bit like a live-action edited book: Several authors come together under the leadership of the chair to pool their knowledge about a topic.

Format

Contributor, A. A., Contributor, B. B., Contributor, C.C., & Contributor, D. D. (Year, Month). Title of the contribution. In E. E. Chairperson (Chair), Title of symposium. Symposium conducted at the meeting of Organisation Name, Location.

Examples

Conference PROCEEDINGS:

- To cite proceedings that are published regularly, use the same format as for a periodical.
- To cite proceedings that are published in book form, use the same format as for a chapter in an edited book.
- Increasingly, proceedings books are being made available on CD to reduce publishing costs. If that's the case with your source, just add [CD] after the title. If the proceedings are published online, substitute "Retrieved from URL" for the publisher and location.

Reports

- References to a report must include the following elements: author(s), date of publication, title, place of publication, and name of publisher. If the issuing organization assigned a number (e.g., report number, contract number, or monograph number) to the report, give that number in parentheses immediately after the title. If it was accessed online, include the URL.

Website contents

- For content that does not easily fit into categories such as journal papers, books, and reports, keep in mind the goal of a citation is to give the reader a clear path to the source material. For electronic and online materials, include stable URL or database name. Include the author, title, and date published when available. For undated materials, include the date the resource was accessed.
- Websites and pages format: Last name, Initials of Author, & followed by last names and initials of other authors if any. (Year of publication or latest update; if there is no date use “n.d.”). Title of article. Retrieved month and day, year, from URL

Legal material

- The 6th edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (2010) outlines the citation style for legal materials in the Appendix to Chapter 7 (pp. 216–224). For court decisions, statutes, codes and other legal publications, APA uses the formats outlined in The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation. Below are suggested formats for common types of legal publications (California and federal sources), and other types of laws from outside US.

Material type	Reference list entry examples	In-text citation examples
Acts and Bills
California Statutes (usually preferred format, citing specific sections in one of the California Codes) Format: Name of law (if available), State Abbreviation Code Abbreviation § section number(s) (Year if available).	Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act, Cal. Penal Code § 11164 et seq.	... Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act ...
Federal Statutes (USC, Pub L., Stat) If a formal name of the law is not available (there is only a U.S. Code citation), some authors include the legal citation in the text only, e.g.: 18 U.S.C. § 2258, and exclude it from the References list. APA prefers the law be identified by name and entered into the References list whenever possible.		Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act of 1974 ... 18 U.S.C. § 2258
Name of law with US Code citation only Format: Name of law, title # U.S.C. § section #.	Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act of 1974, 42 USC §§5101–5106.	... Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act of 1974 ...
With Public Law and/or Statutes at Large information Format: Name of law, Pub. L. ##-##, volume Stat. page, codified as amended at title U.S.C. § section #.	Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act of 1974, Pub. L. 93-247, 88 Stat. 4, codified as amended at 42 U.S.C. §§5101–5106.	... Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act of 1974 ...

Foreign or translated works

- Book/article titles and names written in Latin-based scripts (French, Spanish, German, etc.) can be cited with only minor adjustments.
- Provide a translation of the title in square brackets. Do not translate names written in Latin-based scripts.
- Be mindful of grammatical rules in other languages. German, for example, capitalizes all nouns.

Type of material	Original language	Reference list
Book	Italian	Molinari, E., & Labella, A. (2007). Psicologia clinica: Dialoghi e confronti [Clinical psychology: Dialogue and confrontation]. Milan, Italy: Springer.
	French	Piaget, J. (1966). La psychologie de l'enfant [The psychology of the child]. Paris, France: Presses Universitaires de France.

- Titles and names written in non-Latin scripts (Chinese, Arabic, Russian, etc.) must be transliterated before translating and citing. If you are uncomfortable transliterating material yourself, don't guess -- get help!
- Titles should be transliterated and translated into English.
- Names should be transliterated (not translated) and arranged in "Western" order, e.g., ordered by surname in reference list.

- If you read an English translation of a foreign work, the author, title, and so forth come from the version you read, with a nod to the translator:

Piaget, J. (1969). The psychology of the child (H. Weaver, Trans.). New York, NY: Basic Books.

- When you cite a republished work, like the one below, in your text, it should appear with both dates: Laplace (1814/1951).

Laplace, P. S. (1951). A philosophical essay on probabilities. (F. W. Truscott & F. L. Emory, Trans.). New York, NY: Dover. (Original work published 1814)
